We are loving [AtoZ World Culture]! Our children's room staff has been raving about it. Kids come in with school assignments needing holiday/cultural/society information, and we don't have books on every country. We have also made bookmarks highlighting the database and how to access the information from home.

One professor in our Education department who teaches strategies was so pleased with [AtoZ World Culture] she used it to illustrate strategies to the students in her classes and encouraged them to use [it] as they prepared lesson plans and teaching units.
